

Kamila Chytil, Chief Global Operations Officer

Kamila Chytil was named MoneyGram's chief global operations officer in May 2016. As the company's operations lead, she is responsible for all of MoneyGram's operational units including global servicing, partner integrations, contact centers and strategic operations functions. She joined MoneyGram International in May 2015 as senior vice president of key partnerships and payments. In that role, she led the U.S. and Canada Key Partnerships and Payments teams, who build and nurture relationships with MoneyGram's largest partners. During 2015 Chytil also assumed revenue responsibilities for official paper products, MoneyGram online and the Caribbean region, rounding out her familiarity with various aspects of the company's products and customers. Before joining MoneyGram, Chytil spent 11 years at FIS serving in multiple risk management, analytics and operational roles focusing on traditional financial services as well as retail and underbanked focused financial products. Her most recent position at FIS was senior vice president and general manager of retail payments where she was responsible for e-commerce, check cashing and retail payments. Chytil holds a Master of Business Administration from the University of Florida and a Bachelor of Science in International Business and Finance from the University of Tampa.